

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

FEATURES OF NEW-YORK DEALINGS.

The large trading in wheat options on Tuesday was followed yesterday by a still larger deal, and the upward course of prices was continued. Over 12,000 bushels of wheat were traded.

The West was recommended for wheat, early, and when later on buying appeared for wheat houses, the local shorts stamped largely increased also, by the desire to clear up their accounts over the Thanksgiving holiday. The market ended strong at 10 p.m., and up 2 cents for all options except May, which closed at 24 cents.
